13. At all times relevant hereto, the Mark was, and is, a valid and legally issued service mark.

14. Sophist has been using the Mark continuously since at least as early as 2007.

---

<sup>1</sup> At the time of the Mark’s registration on the principal register, Sophist’s legal name was “Sophist Productions LLC.” Sophist has since changed its legal name to “Sophist LLC” and updated such name change with the USPTO Electronic Trademark Assignment System.

15. The Mark designates Sophist's flagship service, a live mobile fundraising platform, which allows users to pledge monetary contributions via text message to prospective charities (the "Service"). The Service is most successfully employed at galas and other fundraising events, where emcees invite attendees to text in their pledges of support and the collective results are broadcast live on screens accessible to all attendees.

DEFENDANTS' INFRINGEMENT OF THE MARK

Upon information and belief, beginning in or about July 2016, MyPledger began to offer and continues to offer for sale a live mobile fundraising platform, which allows users to pledge monetary contributions via text message to prospective charities, which MyPledger calls "Text to Pledge" (the "Infringing Mark").

23. Upon information and belief, MyPledger intended to and did use the Infringing Mark as a service mark, as is evidenced by, among other things, MyPledger’s use of the “TM” symbol.

24. Upon information and belief, Mr. Walker authorized and approved MyPledger’s use of the Infringing Mark.

25. Upon information and belief, Mr. Walker was the moving, active conscious force behind MyPledger’s infringement of the Mark.

27. Mr. Walker, who responded on behalf of MyPledger, acknowledged receipt of the Cease and Desist Letter, but communicated his refusal to remove the Infringing Mark. As of the date of this Complaint, MyPledger continues to display on its website the Infringing Mark as a service mark.

MyPledger offers similar services under the Infringing Mark, which is nearly identical to Sophist's Mark.

30. Upon information and belief, MyPledger and Mr. Walker were aware of Sophist's use of the Mark when MyPledger began using the Infringing Mark.
